“In Malta...”

The concept of globalisation and huge technological advances in today’s world has put the English language at the forefront of global communication.

Malta and Gozo attract over a million visitors a year due to their geographical position in the heart of the Mediterranean Sea. Their beautiful clear waters, pretty rural villages, friendly inhabitants and early historical remains make the Maltese Islands an ideal destination for any traveller.

Our colonial past and strong historical links with the rest of Europe offer you the unique opportunity to participate in a truly English speaking society where Anglo Saxon traditions blend effortlessly with Mediterranean charm and climate.

In 2004 Malta proudly became a full member of the European Union. Malta is a very safe place with warm and friendly people. Come and see for yourself...
